Two Apple iMac G4 computers are shown. The top one is a standard model with a flat-panel display mounted on a silver neck and a black hemispherical base. The bottom one is a newer model with a similar design but a more pronounced curve in the neck. Both screens display a vibrant image of numerous hot air balloons in various colors (red, yellow, green, blue, pink) floating against a clear blue sky. The balloons are of different sizes and patterns, some with stripes or solid colors. The overall scene is bright and cheerful.
